

Born and bred South African that has been living in Austria since December 1995. I am very fortunate to be integrated and happy to be living here in Austria. I have two boys, a Golden Retriever, two Siamese cats , some fish and a mole that has made it his mission in life to make the lawn look like a dog's breakfast. I have a BA Communication degree and BA (Honours) Sociology. I love studying and have started with my masters in sociology. Career wise I have approximately 15 years marketing research experience, especially in the South African banking industry. Currently, I am working on a freelance basis for UK companies doing market analyses, eg banking products and fmcg. My hobbies are reading, going to the movies, jogging, hiking, visiting art exhibitions. I enjoy cycling and swimming with the boys.
