

The Friends of South Africa has undertaken all reasonable efforts to ensure that the information provided on this website is correct and complete. Nonetheless there may be unintentional and accidental mistakes, for which we want to apologize.

Friends of South Africa does not guarantee or offer a warranty for any of the information obtained via this website, e.g. hyperlinks and other contents, which are accessed directly or indirectly from the Friends of South Africa website.

Friends of South Africa reserves the right to change or supplement the information contained in this website without notice.

Friends of South Africa refuses any liability for wrong or missing information on the Friends of South Africa website, and therefore responsibility for all decisions based on information obtained via the Friends of South Africa website rests exclusively and entirely on the respective user. Friends of South Africa furthermore refuses any liability for all direct, manifest damages or any consequential damages as well as all other possible damages which, from whatever reason, are connected to the direct or indirect use of information posted on the Friends of South Africa website.

If not stated otherwise, the copyright of all documents submitted on the Friends of South Africa website and all the material used for these documents exclusively lies with Friends of Africa.

Reproduction of documents is for personal and informative use only; any other reproduction or any other use is prohibited. The usage of names (e.g. trademarks, logos), whether marked with the symbols ® or ™ or not, is prohibited.

All above mentioned regulations also apply to the software which is directly or indirectly retrieved from or used via the Friends of South Africa website. As far as hyperlinks and software by third parties is accessed, their regulations and rights have to be respected.